

Please join us for an evening with Monique Coleman

The Indigenous Barristers Trust hosts the inaugural UN Youth Champion

Monique Coleman, best known for playing Taylor McKessie in the 'High School Musical' movies, has been appointed the first 'Youth Champion' by the United Nations to raise awareness about the challenges facing young people. 2010-2011 has been named the UN International Year of Youth.

Under the theme 'Dialogue and Mutual Understanding', the Year aims to encourage understanding across generations and cultures. Ms. Coleman, as a UN Youth Champion and a long-time champion for young people, is working to promote the ideals of peace, respect for human rights and solidarity across generations, cultures, religions and civilizations.

Monday, 7 February 2011

5.45 - 7.45pm

Monique Coleman will be meeting with some of the IBT's mentored law students to discuss what she does, and what they do, their success and their opportunities and aspirations. Ms Coleman will then join an IBT hosted cocktail function and meet with the mentors, mentorees and supporters of the programme. We would be honoured if you could join us for this special event.
