

Appellate Advocacy Course

Sydney

5 – 7 October 2012

Excellence in Appellate Advocacy

Expressions of interest are now being taken for the Australian Bar Association's Appellate Advocacy Course to be held in Sydney between 5 and 7 October 2012.

The skills of a barrister are best learned in an environment that is as close to the real experience as possible. This involves realistic briefs, proper preparation, and performance in real court settings before appellate Judges. The Course will promote excellence in appellate advocacy through the development of relevant skills and the art of persuasion.

In line with the Advanced Trial Advocacy Course, the focus will be on a series of in-court performances followed by a review of the video recording of each performance. Participants in this course will have the added benefit of judicial advice and comment on their performances. The Course will be held in the Federal Court of Australia at the Law Courts Complex, Queens Square, in Sydney.

The names of those interested will be placed on a Priority List to receive a registration brochure prior to any general mail-out. Please send your full contact details to Maree Griffiths at the email listed below or by facsimile.
