TO ALL
NEW SOUTH WALES BARRISTERS

RENEWAL OF PRACTISING CERTIFICATES
2007- 08: UPDATE # 1

7 MAY 2007

All New South Wales barristers' practising certificates expire on 30 June. Therefore, a new practising certificate has to have been ISSUED before a barrister may practise from 1 July 2007.

All barristers will be aware that it is an offence under the Legal Profession Act 2004 to practise without a current practising certificate. 'Practise' includes advice work, chambers work, conferences and the like, as well as appearing in court.

Practising certificate renewal forms were sent out on Wednesday 2 May 2007. If you have not received your form by Wednesday 9 May, or have any questions regarding its completion please ring Kim Kemp on 9232 4055, or e-mail kkemp@nswbar.asn.au.
