International Commercial Arbitration is a topic of much interest for the commercial Bar. Last year, the Australian Bar Association (ABA) asked Mr Gyles to inquire into and report upon practice opportunities for Australian Barristers in the Asia-Pacific Region. Having consulted widely and considered submissions on this important topic, Mr Gyles, as a former President of the NSW and Australian Bars amongst other roles, is extremely well placed to share some insights in relation to this topic. This will be followed by a panel discussion which will highlight existing activities and initiatives already being taken by members of the NSW Bar: Laina Chan (MTECC, 2 Selborne), Mark Dempsey SC (7 Wentworth), Justin Hogan-Doran (7 Wentworth), Terry Mehigan (Maxwell42 International Arbitration Chambers, 12 Wentworth), Karen Petch (New Chambers), Jonathon Redwood (ACICA Vice President, Banco Chambers). Additional comments will be provided by Mr Castle, about the work being done by the ABA's International Committee on this issue, in advance of the ABA's Singapore Conference on 11 and 12 July 2019.

This seminar has been organised by the NSW Bar Association's Commercial Law Section.
